one would think i would avoid the dickbag pharmacist in the future, but i plan on doing the exact opposite the bone is removed with rongeurs and a bur, in a precise wedge based on the calculated degrees of closure hcg is always packaged in 2 different vials, one with a powder and the other with a sterile solvent