The need for acceptance within normative society assisted in the process of enabling outsiders to internalise normative stereotypes.

Customers reported seeing 62 longer lashes after 12 weeks of regular use.

A solitary hair, high on my forehead, set about a quarter of a centimetre further forward than the rest.

Per person per year Medicare ESRD costs rose just 1.4 and 1.7 percent for hemodialysis and peritoneal dialysis in 2010, to 87,561 and 66,751, while transplant costs fell 1.1 percent, to 32,914.

But the credo makes sense, I guess.
