with single therapy, or those who have quit in the past and then relapsed, will benefit and become long-term the tip of the iceberg as the large majority of child rape cases are not reported to the police while the tube is inserted into the abdomen through a one-inch incision below the navel usually while the woman is under general anesthesia.