beta sitosterol (derived from pine oil) and vitamin D do exactly this, and provide important immuno-enhancing side benefits.

The average American consumes only 40 percent of the recommended daily allowance of magnesium.